EASTERN NEWS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE OREGONIAN.]

The McKee Case.

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 24.—In the McKee trial to-day Colonel Broadhead, for the prosecution, said it was an absurdity to say that the court should at this point have the trial stop proceedings and exclude further evidence, and that the evidence thus far was perjured, and to instruct the jury that they could find no verdict. It is evident to the court that there has been no legal testimony to prove the issue. Counsel has been went on to show that conspiracy had in existence been established, and that the defendant was connected with it. The defense claim it is in competent testimony while the prosecution assert that conspiracy was a continued act from 1871 to 1875. The court will give a decision to-morrow.

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 25.—Judge Dyer to-day gave his decision before the opening of the trial of McKee this morning, ruling that the case must go on. The testimony had been one of numerous acts, and covering over a long period of time, and the admission of co-conspirators or accomplices must be heard. If, however, when the case should be closed, and the connection of McKee with the ring should not satisfy on the testimony of accomplices, then the court would instruct the jury that little weight was to be attached to evidence. The intimation was the evidence of Bing, and McKee's connection with them would seem to be sufficient. Full swing the decision by Judge, the testimony of Stanford M. Barton, manager of Bingham Bros' distillery, was taken. He will go to the general operations of the ring.

Report from the Black Hills.

YANKTON, Jan. 24.—Special dispatches from Black Hills contain glowing accounts from the Black Hills country. A party carrying the mail between Sidney and the Black Hills had returned, and gave wonderful reports of the richness of the country. The report is vouched for as thoroughly trustworthy. Twelve hundred men are now in that section of the Black Hills through which Rapid Creek runs. Average diggings are one dollar per pan to each man and there has been $147 taken out in six hours by four men. The next day the same force, in the same time, took out $112. Calculating for a person of renown among gold miners, $24 taken out of one pan, there being one hundred pans in a day, worth $25. All of the returning party brought specimens of gold of splendid quality. They all corroborate their statements regarding the beauty and richness of the country, and say Custer's report was not at all exaggerated. A large party is preparing to start from Bismarck for the Hills and will take a large amount of goods. Bismarck merchants are bitterly that the Northern Pacific Railroad refuses to run trains to that place during the present open winter, so that supplies for the Black Hills may be sent forward from that place which is much the nearest to the best diggings.

Council of 40 Churches a Failure.

CHICAGO, Jan. 24.—The Inter Ocean to-morrow will publish an interview with Prof. Bartlett in regard to the story contained in the Sunday Mercury, that a council of 40 Congregational ministers was convened in connection with the Beecher matter. Dr. Bartlett, whose name was mentioned as one of the projectors, denied that any such movement had been made. He has written his own letter as given by the Mercury.

A Villainous Attack.

CINCINNATI, Jan. 25.—Yesterday afternoon, while Mr. Higgins, an employe of the Gas Company, was walking up Pleasant street a number of children attending school yard ran down him and [illegible] impeded his progress. He seized one of the lads, named F. Stefnefeld, and dodged another him into the catch basin of the Main sewer. Wm. Kuhl, who was passing jumped in and rescued the boy, although in so doing he almost drowned. Excitement among the people of the neighborhood was intense, and Higgins would undoubtedly have been mobbed but for his speedy arrest and imprisonment.

Sewer Called on to Speak Out.

NEW YORK, Jan. 23.—The clerk of Plymouth Church furnished H. C. Bowen with a written copy of S. V. White's statement of grievances against him. White says he intended to allow Beecher reasonable time to reply; but if he continues to refuses to tell what he knows damaging to Beecher, admit he knows nothing against him whatever. White will appeal to the Council and ascertain whether or not it would not be for the peace and purity of the Church and all its members including H. C. Bowen, to be faithful to their covenant obligation to the Church.

Babcock's Trial.

CHICAGO, Jan. 24.—The Tribune's St. Louis special says the prospect is that it will be impossible to begin the trial of Babcock on the day for which it was fixed, the 31st as the McKee and Maguire cases will undoubtedly cover that date. The rumor that President Grant, ex-Secretary Richardson and Secretary Bristow will be called to give evidence for Babcock is not authentic. At last, Babcock's attorneys say they will be summoned or their depositions taken. They will testify that Babcock never approached them in behalf of the appointment, removal or retention of any Government official in St. Louis.

Snowbound.

SALT LAKE, Jan. 25.—The Central Pacific trains are still blocked in the snow near Wells' station, Nevada. The Northern road has also been blocked up since Friday.

WELLS, Nev., Jan. 25.—The delayed west bound overland train got through the snow blockade last night at 11 o'clock. The eastern bound train left here at 10 o'clock to-day with nine engines and a snow plow. The weather is warm and the snow is thawing. No further blockade is apprehended.

Fires.

MILFORD, N. H. Jan 25.—A large hotel at Amherst, owned by Shaw of Boston, burned last night. Loss $50,000; insurance $20,000.

NEW YORK, Jan 25.—A large [illegible] reported in Pelham, N. H. Main street is said to be in ashes.

Suspended.

BUFFALO, Jan. 25.—John Stoelwagen, private banker, suspended yesterday evening. Liabilities unknown.

The Government of Columbia to Investigate the Panama R. R. Co.

NEW YORK, Jan. 25.—Files of the Panama Star and Herald received to-day, state that the Columbian government will soon appoint a commission to investigate the condition of the Panama railroad, which, it is alleged, is in so bad a state that $60,000 will be required to put it in good running order.

Wounds of Gen. Gordon Granger.

ST. LOUIS, Jan 25.—The remains of Gen Gordon Granger, who died in New Mexico on the 16th inst passed through Kansas City last night in charge of Lieut. Mauck, aid-de-camp of the 19th infantry en route to Fort Knox, Kentucky, where they will be buried.

Particulars of the Shooting of Senator Offutt.

NEW ORLEANS, Jan 25.—The particulars of the shooting of Democratic ex Senator Offutt at St. Landry parish, are as follows: Offutt, while making a visit to his relatives at Washington, Louisiana, was shot through the rear of his buggy, in the head, by a negro named Augus. Augus was armed with a shotgun, who shortly afterwards informed some colored women that Offutt had been hurt. Augus was suspected, and the crowd went up to his cabin. He ran out from under the cabin about 500 yards in advance of his pursuers. Two hundred armed men surrounded the swamp in which he took refuge. Offutt died to-day.

NEW YORK, Jan 25.—Barchard Merlin, arrested on suspicion, has been recognized as the thief wanted at Detroit, where he is charged with stealing $20,000 in gold.

Enormous Forgeries.

BOSTON, Jan. 23.—This afternoon the Observer will publish a disclosure affecting E. D. Winslow the well known journalist and publisher, and known as one of the principal owners of the Daily News and Boston Post, though it is not believed that either of the papers are affected by his transactions now coming to light. Notes to the amount of $7,000 negotiated in one of the National banks by him are known to be largely forged and sweetness and it is said that when the amount of his forgeries is ascertained by investigation it will reach over half a million. Winslow left last Thursday with his family for parts unknown.

BOSTON, Jan. 25.—Details of the alleged forgeries of E. D. Winslow published by the Journal report the amount is estimated that the total amount of the forged paper bearing his name may be in excess of one million; but whether the forgeries are genuine or not cannot yet be determined. It is stated Winslow says he will not sit in the Newspaper Syndicate change, as others of the company in the arrangements during the week are not satisfactory to him. Mary and Sam Winslow are mentioned as the forgers. He was formerly publisher of the Herald and was a member of the firm in 1852, '53 and '54. It was of that period his disappearance he made [illegible] for notes to get his paper on the endorsements were declined. The amount so forged was increased with every issue.

NEW YORK, Jan 25. The Herald to-morrow will state that among the previous persons whose names appear on Winslow's paper forged or otherwise are W. H. Sheldon for $50,000; Joseph Moore for $100,000; C. H. Hayes for $150,000 and others, the whole amounting to several millions. Winslow's friends still believe that the forgeries will reach but a small part of that figure.

BOSTON, Jan 25.—Some private parties still hold out hopes that Winslow will be able to pay a large proportion of what he has forged in his name. The total amount of paper issued by him is stated to be $10,000. Bound papers out of it is probable that many of the notes will be presented for payment automatically carried on the business of forgery, and according to take up forged paper with other worthless notes until driven to the wall.

The Journal has information from a reliable source that Winslow with his family sailed for Europe last Saturday. No efforts have yet been made to arrest him, or to discover his movements. It will require several days to fully disclose the extent of his operations, as several banks outside of Boston are said to have been victimized.

WASHINGTON CITY.

Decision of the Secretary of the Interior.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25.—The secretary of the Interior has decided, overruling a decision of Secretary Delano of Jan. 9, 1875, that the donation claim of Andrew Rickard, in Roseburg district Oregon, is an invalid claim, and has directed it to be cancelled. Secretary Chandler in his ruling discusses the right of the secretary of the Interior to overrule his predecessor's decision. He declares that in this case there were frauds in the entry filed in the local office, and that the test oath in the case shows conclusively that the pretended claim was a mere fraud. He holds that it is established by authority that the decision of the head of the department in case of property before him may be set aside by his successor's decision where the record discloses a palpable mistake, such as an error of calculation or when new facts are presented which show the decision to be erroneous. He thinks it also may, and should be done when it is necessary in order to defeat a fraudulent attempt to secure a title to public lands, when such fraud is developed and brought to the notice of proper officers as was done in this case.

Bills and Resolutions Introduced.

Sargent's bill fixing the times for holding Circuit Courts, which passed the Senate to day, provides that the terms shall be held in California on the first Monday in February, the second Monday in July and the fourth Monday in November for Oregon on the second Monday in April and the first Monday in October; for Nevada, on the third Monday in March and the fourth Monday (?) in November of each year, such terms to be instead of those now required. The act to take effect Feb 1st provided that a term previously commenced in any district may be continued until the time of commencement of the first in said district to be held under the provisions of this bill.

Piper's bills to-day relative to the telegraph companies and postal roads are duplicates of bills introduced by Sargent last week. They are prepared by the California telegraph company, organized by Sharon, Reese and Cohen.

Congressman Wigginton presented the resolution of the California legislature asking the construction of a breakwater at San Louis Obispo, and that the harbor be declared a port of entry.

Luttrell presented a resolution of St Helena Grange, praying the repeal of the duty on grain sacks.

The friends of the Texas Pacific project say of the House's order for investigating the means used to pass the act, that it was procured by the Central Pacific lobby merely to delay action on the pending bill, and that scent will write to the judiciary committee urging the fullest and most speedy investigation possible.

The bill which has been introduced by the Colorado delegate provides that the annual expenditures on mining claims shall be required only until the application for patent shall have been filed, and other terms of the existing law complied with, instead of requiring the expenditures to continue until the patent is issued.

The Texas Pacific.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25.—The committee on railroads met this evening to hear the arguments upon the extension of government aid to complete the Texas Pacific railroad. Col. Tom Scott appeared for that line, and Mr. C. P. Huntington, of the Central Pacific, for the Southern Pacific of California. After considerable argument on both sides, the committee adjourned till Tuesday next.

Postal Changes.

Postoffice established—Isabell, Lane county, Ogn., Thomas J. Evans, postmaster.

Decision of the Supreme Court.

In the Supreme Court to-day the following decision was rendered in the case of Williams vs the United states, on appeal from the District Court for California: some 14 years ago the claimants obtained a judgment from the land commissioners, confirming their title to the land known as Arroyo de la Segunia, in Santa Cruz county. Claimed in the proceedings the word Segunia was translated league, instead of place. Hence the title was for a league of land, etc., with the boundary given. They now petitioned to have the word corrected so as to give them the place known by the name stated without being limited to a league, claiming that the grant is for the entire place. The court held that the decree of the Land Commissioners was never legally transferred to the District Court, so as to give it jurisdiction of the case, and that the claimants having acquiesced for so long in the decree, as made, were without legal remedy. This court affirms that decree, finding no error. Justice Clifford delivered the opinion.

Confirmed.

The Senate, in executive session to-day confirmed only one nomination namely Thomas R. Mosedin, to be pension agent at San Francisco.

Reduction of Salaries.

The House committee on appropriations took up to-day and forcibly controlled the legislative judicial and executive appropriation bill. They struck out the appropriation for seven clerks of the House, reduced the salaries of members of Congress from $5,000 to $4,000 per annum, and proposed to make a general reduction of 10 per cent on the salaries of all civil government employes.

Hawaiian Treaty.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25.—The committee of ways and means to-day took up the bill to carry into effect the treaty between the United States and the King of the Hawaiian Islands, the ratifications of which were exchanged in June last, the consideration of the bill was suspended until next Tuesday.

Indian Commission Appointed.

Lavel A. Jerome, of Michigan has been appointed member of the board of Indian commissioners.

CONGRESSIONAL.

Senate.

WASHINGTON, Jan 24.—Senator Jones of Nevada, was in his seat to-day for the first time this session.

The chair laid before the Senate the annual report of the commissioner of patents for 1875; laid on the table and ordered printed.

Sherman presented ten petitions of officers of Ohio asking government aid in the construction of the Texas Pacific Railroad. Similar petitions were presented by Cameron, of Pennsylvania, and Wallace; all referred.

Morrimon, from the committee on rules reported adversely on the resolution submitted by Morton to amend the 24th rule so hereafter it shall not be necessary to state in the record and journal that the unanimous consent was asked, and obtained leave to introduce the bill without first one motion, and recommended that the committee be discharged from further consideration of the subject so ordered.

By Morton, a bill to establish a mint for the coinage of gold and silver at Indianapolis and appropriating certain government grounds and buildings to the use of the same and also money for the purpose of purchasing and erecting the necessary machinery; referred.

Morton stated that certain papers purporting to be the credentials of Mr. Austin as senator of the United States from Louisiana, were presented to the House and laid on the table. He moved they now be referred to the committee on privileges and elections, agreed to.

Eaton gave notice that on Wednesday, next week he would submit resolutions of respect to the memory of his late colleague, Ferry.

Bills were introduced and referred as follows:

By Mitchell, of Oregon, to establish and maintain a post route in the State of Oregon and Idaho Territory; referred to the committee on postoffices and post routes.

By Sargent, to establish mail routes in California, referred to same committee.

Coming from the judiciary committee, reported with amendments, the Senate bill, fixing the time for holding the circuit court of the United States for the districts of California Oregon and Nevada, passed.

Also reported from the committee on military affairs, reported favorably on the Senate bill donating the military road running from Astoria, Oregon to such a line that state, to the western confines through which it passes, placed on the calendar.

Kelly, from the committee on public lands, reported favorable on the Senate bill granting 640 acres of land to the widow and heirs of James Slaughter, deceased passed.

Act 2d sess. of 43d, called up the senate bill donating the military road running from Astoria Ogn., to such a line that State, to the western confines through which it passes; passed.

The morning hour having expired the Senate resumed the consideration of unfinished business it being the bill to provide for the appointment of a commission on the subject of alcoholic and fermented liquor traffic and manufacture.

Christiancy submitted an amendment providing that a commission shall be appointed for the purpose of obtaining information which may serve as a guide to a system of legislation best fitted for the United States and other places subject to the legislation of Congress in reference to the question of revenue from the manufacture and sale of alcoholic and fermented liquors and the effect of the use of such liquors upon the morals or the welfare of people in such different localities and places. The amendment was agreed to.

The amendments proposed by the senate committee on finance on the 21st of January, were concurred in and the bill passed as amended—yeas 39, nays 9—Democrats voting with Republicans in favor of the bill.

Hamlin moved to strike out the proviso limiting the 5 65 bonds, and to insert in lieu of it the following proviso "and any further issue of the bonds is hereby prohibited." The motion was agreed to.

Tucker offered the following amendment "and provided further that nothing herein contained shall involve the government of the United States in any obligation to pay the principal or interest of any bond other than may have been issued contrary to or not in pursuance of law." Agreed to.

Kasson offered an amendment, reserving from the provisions of the bill the revenue received for special purposes adopted. The bill as amended then passed.

Bruntly offered a resolution calling on the Secretary of War for information as to the pay and allowances of army officers stationed in Washington since March, 1869, adopted.

Whitehouse offered a resolution instructing the committee on civil service reform to inquire into any abuses or frauds which may exist in the administration and execution of existing laws affecting the civil service, adopted.

Holman offered a resolution instructing the judiciary committee to inquire whether improper and fraudulent means were resorted to to influence legislation on the Texas Pacific railroad bill of the 3d of March 1871 and whether contracts and compensations or subsequently entered into by the company in violation of that act, adopted.

House adjourned.

Senate.

WASHINGTON, Jan 25.—Sargent presented a petition of a large number of ladies asking that a government be established in the District of Columbia which would confer upon women the right to vote. He alluded to Wyoming, where woman suffrage is indorsed by the judiciary, the press and the people generally. He drew up no better place to make the experiment than the capital of the nation and asked that the petition be referred to the committee on the District of Columbia to be considered in conjunction with any bill to provide for the government of the District; referred.

Sherman submitted a resolution instructing the committee on public buildings and grounds to inquire into the report whether existing railways running into the District of Columbia, opposite avenues, streets and public grounds in Washington through which they pass, and whether the roads have acquired any right of use to the same, and extent, and right, and also as to the expediency of changing the location of the depots of said railroads in Washington; agreed to.

By Morrill to establish an educational fund and apply a portion of the proceeds of public lands to public education and provide for more complete education among and support of national colleges for the advancement of scientific and industrial education; referred.

By Cameron of Wisconsin to authorize the construction of a pontoon bridge across the Mississippi river from some feasible point in Houston county Minnesota, referred.

Morrill submitted a resolution directing the Secretary of War to communicate to the Senate the aggregate number of organized militia in the several States.

Kelly, from the committee on public lands, reported favorable on the Senate bill granting 640 acres of land to the widow and heirs of James Slaughter, deceased; passed.

House adjourned.

Pending the discussion Hamlin moved that the Senate proceed to the consideration of executive business.

The Senate went into Executive session and then adjourned.

House.

The Speaker called on committees for reports.

Foster from the committee on ways and means reported a bill transferring the custody of certain Indian trust bonds from the Secretary of Interior to the Treasury of the United States; passed.

Cox from the committee on banking and currency reported back adversely three bills proposing to repeal the ten per cent tax on circulation of banks that are not national banks, laid on the table.

Colfax from the committee on military affairs reported a resolution calling on the Secretary of War for copies of the orders and instructions under which Quartermaster General Meigs is acting during his absence from the United States, adopted.

Jenks from the committee on invalid pensions reported favorably on the pension bill, providing that exception cases of permanent specific disability in the case of pensions shall be allowed once prior to the date of the examining surgeon's certificate. Also repealing the law which limits land warrants personal property. After discussion the bill passed.

Rusk from the same committee reported a bill to increase the pensions in certain cases. It provides that persons, who in the military or naval service, have lost one hand and one foot, or have been totally or permanently disabled, shall be entitled to a pension for each of these disabilities.

After the call of committees was concluded, the House went into committee of the whole, Wood, of New York, in the chair, on the Centennial appropriation bill.

Thomas advocated the bill, while South and opposed.

Robbins, of North Carolina, followed. He said when the war broke out a North Carolina farmer had six sons grown up to manhood and the first on top of the drum went to the field to fight in the cause of the South. They fought from Bull Run to Appomattox but not all of them. One of them was sleeping at Antietam, one at Chancellorsville, one at Gettysburg and another in Kentucky, but two of them were at Appomattox. They had seen the flag go down which they had followed with unfaltering devotion. One of those survivors was he who now addressed the committee, and who now said he had seen enough of war and wanted peace. He wanted reconciliation and brotherhood all over the country. That was why he proposed to vote for the bill, for the tendency of the celebration was to promote peace. The world are and fought throughout the war with boyonets muskets and cannons and now they had ceased fighting. The reason why there was not peace was because a few selfish, restless political agitators still wanted to keep up the fight and their weapons were asses' jawbones. He was opposed to participation in that kind of warfare, he wanted peace, his people had sent him there to talk peace to help bring about reconciliation and good understanding.

The debate was continued by Williams, of Wisconsin, and Lamar in favor of the bill, and by White and Gordon against it.

In the course of Lamar's speech, he asked whether it was not a fact that one-fifth of the plenary power of the general government in regard to foreign affairs there was constitutional incompetency. Congress to invite commissioners from foreign countries to bring here productions of commerce, art and industry. Was it unconstitutional in the President to give the invitations which the law authorized him to give? If not, it was clearly and unquestionably the duty of Congress to appropriate the moneys for that purpose. He favored the celebration in order that the people of the North should become satisfied of the lasting desire of the South on this people to live with them in perpetual union, and to bury that feeling, all others sank into insignificance. He expressed an allusion made by Townsend, of New York to Jefferson Davis, Brooks, and intimated that the inevitable effect of the allusion was to excite passion, to influence and possibly and to awake the hatred of sectionalism. He [illegible] advocated the scheme because it carried at the spirit of peace and reconciliation. The currents of passion and feeling flowed hither and thither, lashed by extraneous agencies but there was in the great sea unsounded depth of common humanity, common interest and patriotism which by unspoken

Lamar spoke under the ten minutes rule but as soon as the time expired, Garfield rose and in a recognized courteously yielded his time to Lamar.

Ben spoke against the bill, and then the general debate having closed, Holman moved, as a test vote, to strike out the enacting clause of the bill; the motion was rejected 101 to 126.

Mills offered an amendment, authorizing the Governor of Texas to appoint two commissioners from that State in the place of those acting under the former appointment, but on a point of order the amendment was ruled out. Mills explained that Texas desired to be represented at the celebration, but that she would not be represented by two such gentlemen as those who have been appointed.

An amendment was offered by Sheakley, for free admission on the 4th of July and every Thursday, was rejected, and several other amendments were proposed and rejected.

The committee then rose and reported the bill to the House, with a recommendation that it pass.

Hopkins, chairman of the select committee which had reported the bill, having an hour to close the debate, yielded portions of his time to other members, and further speeches were made for the bill by Young and Randall.

A large number of requests for leave to have speeches on the Centennial bill printed in the Congressional Record were made and granted.

An amendment offered by Springer, requiring the payment in full to the treasury of any balance that may be left in the hands of the finance committee before any division or percentage of profits be paid to contractors, was agreed to.

The House then proceeded to vote on the passage of the bill. The bill was passed—yeas 116, nays 13). The announcement was greeted with applause. The following is the vote:

Spanish Purposes.

BERLIN, Jan 24.—The Spanish diplomatic representatives of the various courts have verbally informed the Government that under the defeat of the Carlists, which is expected in a short time Spain hopes to be enabled to send the Spanish insurrection with increase of reinforcements. So far the complications are unchanged because the Carlist armies have distinctly rejected the idea of making Cuba.

Election of Castelar to the Cortes.

MADRID, Jan 24.—Senor Castelar has been elected deputy to the Cortes from Barcelona.

Gambetta Apprehensive on Account of Radical Successes.

PARIS, Jan 24.—Gambetta and other Republicans are apprehensive of a conflict in the provinces if the Radicals should succeed in electing all the Senatorial delegates. The Senators for Paris are strenuously working to bring about a compromise between the various Republican sections.

Legislation in the Reichstag.

The reichstag to-day by a vote of 141 to 121 rejected an amendment to the penal code providing for the punishment of offenses, similar to that of the Catechema.

The Deutschenmuse, in order to counteract the effect of the translation of Arnim's latest pamphlet on public opinion in England publishes a series of official reports made by Bismarck to the Emperor in regard to the count. These papers begin in 1872, and severely criticize Arnim as a diplomatist dwelling on his unreliable character and his proneness to subordinate his official duties to his personal interest. The Emperor is reminded of his own misgiving when he appointed Arnim ambassador to Paris, on account of the latter's unreliability. One of the reports to the Emperor states that when the time was ascertained of transferring Arnim to London, a vigorous protest was received from that quarter because of his tendency to intrigue.

Foreign Postal Union.

BERNE, Jan 24.—It is now certain that the British, India and French colonies will join in the postal union. Notification of the adhesion of Brazil has been received.

War in Turkey.

VIENNA, Jan 24.—The Neue Free Presse represents that the insurgents in Turkey apprehend, as the natural sequel of the presentation of Andrassy's note that the Imperial Powers will forcibly intervene to compel them to lay down their arms. They are, consequently, redoubling their efforts in order to improve their position, and a brisk renewal of fighting is expected.

LONDON, Jan 25.—A Vienna correspondent telegraphs the following. Affairs in Servia are increasing in seriousness. The parties of the prince of Montenegro and of Prince Kraguyevatz have a major of both in the country and Skupscht

WEDNESDAY MORNING JAN 26 1876

THE POWERS TAKE BOTH SIDES.

For some time past, little has been heard of the situation of affairs in Eastern Europe The last definite statement, made some weeks or some months ago was to the effect that the revolted provinces were still disposed to resist all efforts at conciliation and to cease hostilities only when their emancipation from Turkish thraldom was accomplished in point of actual ability to maintain their belligerent attitude, however, the preponderance of evidence appeared to be against them Their destitution increased while the Turk, with absolutely no legitimate resources, was still able to build up his army and augment his military strength by the assistance of nations that ought to have left him to his fate So the indications seemed to be that the result of the struggle would be not the liberation of the Christian provinces, but the more effectual riveting of the manacles of pagan servitude upon them

Beyond this general view of the situation little information is to be gleaned from the press A Ragusa letter, published in the London Times of January 5, contains a paragraph respecting the proposed Austrian occupation of the revolted districts, which throws some additional light on the subject, and confirms inferentially, the discouraging reports above referred to This letter says

All information from official and unofficial sources confirms the opinion that not only is the Austrian occupation of the insurrectionary provinces determined upon but that some foreign occupation is absolutely necessary as a precaution against a most probable massacre of the Christians wherever they are unarmed and helpless.

So it appears the Austrian occupancy is designed as a protection to the Christians against their Mussulman oppressors The Christians, numbering four to one of the ruling class, are denied all means of defense. Without arms, without civil rights, impoverished by unequal taxation, they are at the mercy of the handful of Turks living among them, whose rapacity is not restrained but rather encouraged by the military The protection of Europe powers is alleged, and doubtless truly to be necessary And so it has come to this, that the Western powers find it necessary to interpose, with military force, to prevent the wholesale slaughter of twelve millions or more of people of their own race and religion, and still consider it necessary also, in order to save the interest on their mortgages, to give their support to the power that would commit the outrage. This is the contradictory position in which the selfish jealousy of the European powers has placed them with respect to the Eastern question. Their course upon the general subject of their relations with "the sick man" has been a mark for ridicule for a quarter of a century. It is now become something more than a mark for ridicule. It is a disgrace to themselves and a reproach to civilization. It is not the Turk that oppresses the Christians of Eastern Europe. He has dwindled to a mere instrument, the real oppressors being the Christians of Western Europe

LIEU'S MAYNARD'S REPORT ON ALASKA

The New York Times' Washington correspondent is interested to know why the report of Lieutenant Washburn Maynard, of the Navy on the condition of things in Alaska was not published along with that of Mr Elliott. Mr. Maynard was detailed to inspect and report on Alaskan affairs last year and made the voyage to that country at the same time with Mr Elliott, and yet his report has but lately been allowed to be seen by the public There is nothing in the report, says the Times correspondent, which any one "need hesitate to publish" The correspondent it is, and not the report, that is so outrageously innocent. There is not much in the report that any one "need hesitate to publish," but what there is of that sort is too much to the point for some people Mr Maynard agrees with Mr Elliott in most respects, and does not dissent from him in the statement that the Alaska Fur Co, which has a monopoly of the seal and sea otter fisheries of Alaska, is conducting its business according to law. But the company have been for some time endeavoring to get Congress to allow them to increase the number of fur seals taken annually from 100,000 to 200,000, and Mr Elliott, who is a friend of the company — and no worse man for that as we know of — while not 'recommending the granting of the request at once, recommended what would be about as good for the Company, namely, that the number be gradually increased to the maximum which observation should show to be compatible with the purpose of preventing a diminution of seal life in that region Mr Elliott was not disposed to kill the goose that laid the golden egg, but would have her plucked as closely as she could be and live, leaving it to those who did the plucking to say how much she could stand. On this point, Mr Maynard took a different view He was of opinion that any increase of the number of seal taken would be hazardous He could not join in the recommendation of Mr Elliott and as his report showed a degree of intelligence and care in its preparation that could not fail to secure the attention and command the respect of those who had the granting or withholding of the requested increase of the Company's limits, it did contain matter that some people might not "need hesitate to publish" It made a catalogue of facts and statistics all of which it got it though not that might as well have been published at first

THE TREASURY CONSERVATIVE MONEY

It appears that the Treasury Department has [illegible] the Treasurer Governor in [illegible] $37,000,000 in gold bullion and expects during the [illegible] obstruction of the Straits of Simonoseki by some Japanese buccaneers and levies cannot that time the money has been flowing the pockets of somebody rather it appears to be regarded as a conservative fund which anybody whose [illegible] can [illegible] out of [illegible] Congressmen who have more Credit Mobilier or back salary or Pacific Mail to carry than they can get along comfortably with, compromise the matter by proposing some work of right [illegible] in connection with this Japanese indemnity fund which appears to be regarded, and probably correctly so, as, for the most part, a fund exacted for wrongs that never existed It is proposed by one set to establish with it a chair of the Japanese language in the California University Another set want a college endowed with it in Poston or Iceland, or somewhere for the education of such Japanese youths as might desire to obtain a conscientious education on the American plan Somebody else would apply this fund to support a commission in Japan for the instruction of the natives in American statesmanship especially in the kind of statesmanship which displays the American politician's conscience in its holiest relief And now comes the New York chamber of commerce and embarrasses its conscience in the only sensible proposition that we remember to have seen on the subject That body says in substance that if it is true that this sum was wrongfully exacted, it ought to be paid back, without any condition If it is ours we have no occasion to be troubling our brains about how to get rid of it but should use it as we use any other money that rightfully belongs to us, and settle honestly with the individuals who sustained the damage on account of which it was exacted just as we are pretending to do with the Geneva award and if it is not ours, hand it over to the owner without any "ifs" and "buts."

WHO KILLED COCK ROBIN?

The Evening Journal of Monday, commenting on the appeal from the decision of Judge Deady in the Bulletin bankruptcy case, to the judiciary committee, says

If Senator Mitchell takes the Bulletin compulsory bankruptcy case—by which the paper was merely interred after its death, when the corpse was ready—so much to heart, why don't he move the President to remove from fat offices under the Federal government, in this city, the two worm and dear friends of his and to his party who absolutely killed it? As well ask that the undertaker or clergyman, who officiates at a funeral or at the grave of a murdered person shall be punished while the shiver goes scot free as to move only as the Senator appears to have moved in the matter We know who killed that particular Cock Robin, and so does Senator Mitchell—and it was killed not by quarling but by the treachery of the Senator's own trustees, as he knows we know

Without attaching much importance to the question or desiring to put our finger very deep into a pie that burns other people's fingers, we take the liberty of saying that if our neighbor of the Journal had made himself acquainted with the facts connected with the death of the late Bulletin, he would not accuse two, or any number of officers, fat or lean, of being its slayers. The deceased died of chronic impecuniosity It had been run by contributions from its friends for some time, and this resource being exhausted, it died of pure, unmitigated starvation and wretchedness If the holders of two fat offices killed the Bulletin, then the holders of all the offices, fat and lean did the same thing. They all let it die, because they did not possess the disposition or the ability to sport such a toy at a loss of $1,500 a month, and that is all there is of it. If there is no reason for the removal of the two officers referred to, whoever they may be, except that they killed the Bulletin, they ought not to be removed, first, because they did not kill it, and second because if they had, they would not have been to blame as it had no excuse for living and should have been put out of its misery

The Evening Journal made its appearance yesterday afternoon under the editorship of Hon Geo L Curry a veteran in the newspaper business having been editor of one of the first papers published in the State a gentleman of literary taste and culture and a politician of experience and ability With Gov Curry as editor the Journal will no doubt take a more prominent position in politics than it has hitherto done and will exert its influence for the advancement of the interests of the Democratic party We are glad to welcome the return of Gov Curry to journalism However much we may be obliged to differ with him respecting what should be done or refrained from in the administration of the State or national government he has our best wishes for the success in his present adventure which all who know him know he will deserve

Gladiateur, a famous race horse, whose death is reported in to day's telegrams was bred in France by Count Du Grange At the age of three years he won the English Derby the Oaks and the St Ledger—the three great racing events of England This stamped him as the best horse of his year and one of the best ever trained The triumph of Gladiateur in these races excited the greatest enthusiasm in France and Gladiateur was said by the Frenchmen to have avenged Waterloo For some years past Gladiateur has been kept in the stud but his success has not been remarkable none of his get having distinguished themselves

It is regarded at Washington as pretty certain that the efforts to repeal the specie resumption act will fail There was, for a time some excitement manifested among Republicans to resist the measure but that seems to have disappeared and the friends of resumption are confident no attack on the law will be successful

NEWSPAPERARCHIVE®

The Daily Oregonian.

WEDNESDAY MORNING, JAN. 26, 1876.

"THE POWERS" TAKE BOTH SIDES.

For some time past, little has been heard of the situation of affairs in Eastern Europe. The last definite statement, made some weeks, or some months ago, was to the effect that the revolted provinces were still disposed to resist all efforts at conciliation, and to cease hostilities only when their emancipation from Turkish thraldom was accomplished. In point of actual ability to maintain their belligerent attitude, however, the preponderance of evidence appeared to be against them. Their destitution increased, while the Turk, with absolutely no legitimate resources, was still able to build up his army and augment his military strength by the assistance of nations that ought to have left him to his fate. So the indications seemed to be that the result of the struggle would be not the liberation of the Christian provinces, but the more effectual riveting of the manacles of pagan servitude upon them.

Beyond this general view of the situation little information is to be gleaned from the press. A Ragusa letter, published in the London Times of January 5, contains a paragraph respecting the proposed Austrian occupation of the revolted districts, which throws some additional light on the subject, and confirms, inferentially, the discouraging reports above referred to. This letter says:

"All information from official and unofficial sources confirms the opinion that not only is the Austrian occupation of the insurrectionary provinces determined upon, but that some foreign occupation is absolutely necessary as a precaution against a most probable massacre of the Christians wherever they are unarmed and helpless.

So it appears the Austrian occupancy is designed as a protection to the Christians against their Mussulman oppressors. The Christians, numbering four to one of the ruling class, are denied all means of defense. Without arms, without civil rights, impoverished by unequal taxation, they are at the mercy of the handful of Turks living among them, whose rapacity is not restrained but rather encouraged by the military. The protection of foreign powers is alleged, and doubtless truly, to be necessary. And so it has come to this, that the Western powers find it necessary to interpose, with military force, to prevent the wholesale slaughter of twelve millions or more of people of their own race and religion, and still consider it necessary also, in order to save the interest on their mortgages, to give their support to the power that would commit the outrage. This is the contradictory position in which the selfish jealousy of the European powers has placed them with regard to the Eastern question. Their course upon the general subject of their relations with "the sick man" has been a mark for ridicule for a quarter of a century. It is now become something more than a mark for ridicule. It is a disgrace to themselves and a reproach to civilization. It is not the Turk that oppresses the Christians of Eastern Europe. He has dwindled to a mere instrument, the real oppressors being the Christians of Western Europe.

LIEUT. MAYNARD'S REPORT ON ALASKA.

The New York Times' Washington correspondent is interested to know why the report of Lieutenant Washburn Maynard, of the Navy, on the condition of things in Alaska, was not published along with that of Mr. Elliott. Mr. Maynard was detailed to inspect and report on Alaskan affairs last year, and made the voyage to that country at the same time with Mr. Elliott, and yet his report has but lately been allowed to be seen by the public. There is nothing in the report, says the Times' correspondent, which any one "need hesitate to publish." The correspondent it is, and not the report, that is so extremely innocent. There is not much in the report that any one "need hesitate to publish," but what there is of that sort is too much to the point for some people. Mr. Maynard agrees with Mr. Elliott in most respects, and does not dissent from him in the statement that the Alaska Fur Co., which has a monopoly of the seal and sea otter fisheries of Alaska, is conducting its business according to law. But the company have been for some time endeavoring to get Congress to allow them to increase the number of fur seals taken annually from 100,000 to 200,000, and Mr. Elliott, who is a friend of the company—and no worse man for that as we know of—while not recommending the granting of the request at once, recommended what would be about as good for the Company, namely, that the number be gradually increased to the maximum which observation should show to be compatible with the purpose of avoiding a diminution of seal life in that region. Mr. Elliott was not disposed to kill the goose that laid the golden egg, but would have her plucked as closely as she could be and live, leaving it to those who did the plucking to say how much she could stand. On this point, Mr. Maynard took a different view. He was of opinion that any increase of the number of seal taken would be hazardous. He could not join in the recommendation of Mr. Elliott, and as his report showed a degree of intelligence and care in its preparation that could not fail to secure the attention and command the respect of those who had the granting or withholding of the requested increase of the Company's limits, it did contain matter that some people, at least, "need hesitate to publish." That malicious House of Representatives called for it and got it though; and it might as well have been published at first.

THE JAPANESE CONSCIENCE MONEY.

In 1863, or 1864, the United States exacted of the Japanese Government an indemnity of $750,000, for alleged damages and expenses arising out of the forcible obstruction of the Straits of Simonoseki by some Japanese buccaneers; and ever since that time the money has been burning the pockets of somebody or other. It appears to be regarded as a conscience fund with which anybody whose conscience is out of employment thinks he ought to load himself. Congressmen who have more Credit Mobilier, or back salary, or Pacific Mail to carry than they can get along comfortably with, compromise the matter by proposing some work of righteousness in connection with this Japanese indemnity fund, which appears to be regarded, and probably correctly so, as, for the most part, a fund exacted for wrongs that never existed. It is proposed by one set to establish with it a chair of the Japanese language in the California University. Another set want a college endowed with it in Boston, or Iceland, or somewhere, for the education of such Japanese youths as might desire to obtain a conscientious education on the American plan. Somebody else would apply this fund to support a commission in Japan for the instruction of the natives in American statesmanship—especially in the kind of statesmanship which displays the American politician's conscience in its boldest relief. And now comes the New York chamber of commerce and unburdens its conscience in the only sensible proposition that we remember to have seen on the subject. That body says in substance, that if it is true that this sum was wrongfully exacted, it ought to be paid back, without any conditions. If it is ours we have no occasion to be troubling our brains about how to get rid of it; but should use it as we use any other money that rightfully belongs to us, and settle honestly with the individuals who sustained the damage on account of which it was exacted, just as we are pretending to do with the Geneva award; and if it is not ours, hand it over to the owner without any "ifs" and "buts."

WHO KILLED COCK ROBIN?

The Evening Journal of Monday, commenting on the appeal from the decision of Judge Deady in the Bulletin bankruptcy case, to the judiciary committee, says:

If Senator Mitchell takes the Bulletin compulsory bankruptcy case—by which the paper was merely interred after its death, when the corpse was ready—so much to heart, why don't he move the President to remove from fat offices under the Federal government, in this city, the two warm and dear friends of his and to his party, who absolutely killed it? As well ask that the undertaker or clergyman, who officiates at a funeral or at the grave of a murdered person, shall be punished; while the slayer goes scot free, as to move only as the Senator appears to have moved in the matter. We know who killed that particular Cock Robin, and so does Senator Mitchell—and it was killed not by courting, but by the treachery of the Senator's own "trusties," as he knows we know.

Without attaching much importance to the question, or desiring to put our finger very deep into a pie that burns other people's fingers, we take the liberty of saying that if our neighbor of the Journal had made himself acquainted with the facts connected with the death of the late Bulletin, he would not accuse two, or any number of officers, fat or lean, of being its slayers. The deceased died of chronic impecuniosity. It had been run by contributions from its friends for some time, and that resource being exhausted, it died of pure, unmitigated starvation and wretchedness. If the holders of two fat offices killed the Bulletin, then the holders of all the offices, fat and lean, did the same thing. They all let it die, because they did not possess the disposition or the ability to sport such a toy at a loss of $1,500 a month; and that is all there is of it. If there is no reason for the removal of the two officers referred to, whoever they may be, except that they killed the Bulletin, they ought not to be removed; first, because they did not kill it; and second, because if they had, they would not have been to blame, as it had no excuse for living and should have been put out of its misery.

The Evening Journal made its appearance yesterday afternoon under the editorship of Hon. Geo. L. Curry, a veteran in the newspaper business, having been editor of one of the first papers published in the State, a gentleman of literary taste and culture and a politician of experience and ability. With Gov. Curry as editor the Journal will no doubt take a more prominent position in politics than it has hitherto done, and will exert its influence for the advancement of the interests of the Democratic party. We are glad to welcome the return of Gov. Curry to journalism. However much, we may be obliged to differ with him respecting what should be done, or refrained from in the administration of the State or national government he has our best wishes for the success in his present adventure which all who know him know he will deserve.

Gladiateur, a famous race horse, whose death is reported in to-day's telegrams, was bred in France by Count La Grange. At the age of three years he won the English Derby, the Oaks and the St. Ledger—the three great racing events of England. This stamped him as the best horse of his year, and one of the best ever trained. The triumph of Gladiateur in these races excited the greatest enthusiasm in France, and Gladiateur was said by the Frenchmen to have avenged Waterloo. For some years past Gladiateur has been kept in the stud, but his success has not been remarkable, none of his get having distinguished themselves.

It is regarded at Washington as pretty certain that the efforts to repeal the specie resumption act will fail. There was, for a time, some disposition manifested among Republicans to reconsider the measure, but that seems to have disappeared, and the friends of resumption are confident no attack on that law will be successful.

GOES EAST.—Hon. N. Michler, Superintendent of the Twelfth lighthouse district, with headquarters at this city, took passage on the steamer Ajax yesterday afternoon for San Francisco. Mr. Michler's chief duty, during the nearly 20 years he has been stationed here, has been to attend to the erection of lighthouses and other aids to navigation on the Columbia river and its tributaries, and to the inspection of the same after completion. He has also had charge of the construction of the jetties at the mouth of the Columbia river, and has had the satisfaction of seeing the fact that enormous deposits of sand have been made on the shore, literally reclaiming from the sea a large tract of land. The work has been carried on for a long time, and the results have been noticeable from year to year. Mr. Michler's duties, after the completion of the existing works, will be confined to the inspection of the same, and to the construction of such new works as may be required to counteract the encroachments of the sea. He has also had charge of the construction of the new lighthouse at Cape Disappointment, which is now nearly completed. He was also engaged in the survey of the Willamette river above Portland, and in the improvement of the falls at Oregon City. Mr. Michler's chief engineer, Mr. Daley, has been in charge of the work at the falls for many years past, and has contributed largely to the prosperity and improvement of Oregon City.

RETURNED FROM [illegible]—Mr. [illegible] has just returned from [illegible] where he has been [illegible] down by order of the Secretary of the Treasury, for the purpose of examining the [illegible] and to make some arrangement for the protection of erosions [illegible] the mouth of the Columbia river. CITY.

A PROFESSIONAL 'BEAT.'—The public of Oregon, British Columbia and Washington Territory, are not unacquainted with one D H Haskell This is the manner in which the S F Chronicle does Dr. John H Haskell, who attained considerable notoriety in this city by lecturing before the various temperance societies, and who has for years past been engaged in conducting a rolling variety show throughout the interior was arrested yesterday on a charge of embezzlement, on complaint of Geo Bauer The latter had engaged as cashier He answered an advertisement calling for a cashier of good address and unimpeachable integrity Bauer supposed himself and Haskell to be them If Haskell had any security to offer that he possessed the necessary qualifications for the place was admitted having $600 and consented to place it in the Doctor's hands That worthy individual greedily pocketed the money and advised the young man immediately but never returned the money Following Bauer there will be several dark pools in which the enterprising temperance lecturer will be immersed before long The list is somewhat extensive and space admits of but a few names viz: O E de Castro scene shifter $100 Alexander Kieffer, stage carpenter $100 G W Wesson, stage manager $450; Joseph Stockel carrier out of the dead $15; Joseph Glass sign painter, $80, Joseph Scherrer carpenter $80, and a month's board in some country town, S Casland, some minor capacity he filled the scenes. $150 and George Stone $300 All of these men answered various advertisements, and were engaged to travel with the "show" through the country towns Most of them received no salary but were forced to pay certain sums as security for their good behavior. The venerable swindler Haskell has had a varied experience having been a preacher, physician, lecturer, circus manager and theatrical manager

THE LECTURE Y M C A —The second lecture of the course to be delivered for the benefit of the Y M C A, came off last evening at the room, to an appreciative audience The entertainment of the evening commenced with a voluntary on the organ by Mrs Holbrook, Gen. Howard introduced the speaker Mrs. Wood, whom after many difficulties he had encountered in crossing the Columbia on the floating ice for the purpose of keeping his engagement is before you The speaker's theme was on the subject of 'Children,' was replete with witty and humorous anecdotes, narrated in a pleasing manner and return, with grace. The lecture throughout was listened to with marked attention by the audience, and afforded considerable amusement Mr Bentley sang a sacred song, entitled "The Three Calls," which is certainly a gem of music, and was rendered with skill and sweetness of voice really charming General Howard, at the conclusion of the song, returned thanks to Mrs Wood and those who were in favor of returning, and also tendered thanks to Lieut Wood for his excellent lecture, to manifest the same by rising. In response the audience rose en masse The general announced the next lecture will be delivered by Wm Lair Hill, editor of the Statesman, the subject however he could not give, but would be found advertised in the papers

The audience was then dismissed

CLACKAMAS TOWN —A correspondent writes from Clackamas county gives the following description of a nascent city which has had its spring into existence in that portion of the country. "I will tell you where our mills are, and what its name is It lies 16 miles south of Oregon City and 12 miles east of Macleay and we have christened it Fizzle

We have not incorporated it yet but I think we will as soon as spring opens I will give you some idea of the size of our town It has one store, one store and whisky combined, one blacksmith shop, one one hotel and a picture gallery. But, alas! I forgot his gouge He was making himself rather too free with the girls and married man, and one old man got his back up and undertook to set in operation a small moving mill in the region of the artist's coat tail thought he would lift himself up and ... climate"

The steamer Welcome did not go down the river yesterday morning to Kalama She has been hauled off the line until the river becomes free from floating ice

Boatmen and base ballists are growing uneasy with pneumonitory symptoms of spring fever but they may yet have a chance to take a brief season of winter rest

An unfortunate creditor who attempted to leave for San Francisco yesterday was marched off the steamer by a constable The fellow was out of luck that was all

It is quite probable that people generally are not much encumbered at present by resolutions As a general thing they do not last so long It is three weeks now since New Years

The ice collector at the Dalles is now briskly engaged improving each stirring hour and gathering the chilling commodity at the rate of tons per day The ice is about five inches thick

Possibly it would have been policy for people to lay away a stock of ice cream last summer when it was plentiful to eat in winter hours like the thoughtful and disagreeable bee with his honey

The ship carpenter on the Crushers Le Castle who had his arm so badly crushed a few days since, is reported to be doing well The surgeons are confident that the limb can be saved without amputation

Asphyxia is what sometimes kills people when they fall from an elevated position and are suddenly stopped before they reach anything to rest upon In other cases of this kind a dislocation of the cerebral vertebrae proves fatal Avoid both if you would happily live

A SWINDLING DODGE.

A resident of this city, who has not been in San Francisco since 1860, received yesterday a letter from that city bearing date of the 17th the contents of which are here quoted

Sir about eight months ago you left a watch and chain with me to be repaired which have not been called for Incidentally discovered your address and send you notice of the charges amounting to $2 are not paid by Jan 28 they will be sold Answer by return mail and enclose $2 25 currency and I will forward as you direct Very respectfully

J W WOOD
733 Market street

Of course the recipient of the note was greatly astonished to know that he was in San Francisco eight months ago and as the thing looked rather suspicious he consulted an acquaintance about it and it turned out that his friend had received a note couched in similar language in the same hand writing but not the same address It was looked upon as a swindle, and in order to guard those similarly favored against being taken in the gentleman turned the letter over to us for publication in We are inclined to think the particulars will to the gentlemen mentioned are one and the same and the dodge as an effort to obtain a remittance and thus swindle the remitters

PRESIDENT MAKING IN PENNSYLVANIA.

The New York Tribune's regular correspondent at Harrisburg has been prospecting the members of the Pennsylvania legislature of "colors" on the Presidential question and reports the following, as general results

This is the attitude of the Pennsylvania Democrats Ten are for Hendricks Bayard Pinchan Glen Hancock or almost anybody in preference to Tilden but they will give up their opposition rather than run a clear hazard of defeat Satisfy them that without New York he loses the battle and that with Tilden they lose New York, and they are for Tilden What I have said above applies to the general run of Democratic members who have not thought seriously on the question and have not therefore, enlisted under the banner of any particular candidate A definite programme has been mapped out by the leaders of the Wallace wing of the party but it has not yet been communicated to the rank and file The plan is to throw the vote of Pennsylvania in the Convention for Governor Hendricks in return for the Western vote for Governor Curtin for Vice President It is a shrewd and carefully laid scheme and is worthy of the anxious consideration of Gov Tilden's friends It contemplates sloughing the State and from New York to Pennsylvania carrying the latter State by the old war governor's popularity risking the loss of the former Indiana, Indiana and making a push for Ohio and Wisconsin The Tilden state figures out victory by the union of the South with Tilden and the Pacific coast the Hendricks and Curtin states arrives at the same result by adding to the vote of the South that of Pennsylvania and Indiana and taking the chances of carrying one or two of the close Western States There is good reason for stating that Senator Wallace is using his great talent for organizing political movements to ward this scheme, and for believing that Gov Curtin had it in view when he surprised his friends by taking the stump for Allen last October

Among the Republicans there begin to be strong preferences shown but no prejudices Blaine or Bristow with them A few months ago Mr Blaine was almost without a rival in the affections of Pennsylvania Republicans, but now the Secretary of the Treasury has a powerful following gained solely by his persistent warfare upon the whisky rings A member from Washington county the birth place of the ex Speaker, tells me that three fourths of the Republicans there are now for Bristow I know however that the sentiment is not as one sided throughout the State, and it is probable that the preference of the member leads him to exaggerate the feeling in his section Mr Blaine's hold upon Pennsylvania is too strong to be lost so quickly A sudden wave of popularity may appear to raise a rival higher in public regard, but the men who control Republican politics and who will name the delegates to the National Convention continue to be staunch friends of the ex Speaker The vote of the State will I am confident be given to him Besides the two strong candidates, I hear some mention of Lieut B Washburne and a little of Gov Hayes No one else is spoken of Gen Grant is a favorite candidate for a third term among the Democrats Any Democrat will demonstrate his nomination to a certainty, but Republicans if they prefer to run all on whose discretion the presidential quarrel is to be that they suppose he must be convinced by this time that there is no possibility that his party will take him up again

PLUMMER FRUIT DRYER.

AS A PROOF OF WHAT I HAVE HERE TO FORE stated let the people of Oregon and California know a letter from the Plummer Fruit Drying Co of East Portland After the close of business of 1875 fully endorsing it after using it one entire season and as a proof of my estimate what they say they now can explain pounding up another Dryer of the same capacity of the one they now have which will increase their capacity to five hundred bushels of apples per day Having now located here in Portland for the purpose of supplying the demand for Fruit Dryers in Oregon and Washington Territory I can supply these dryers at a cost of from $1 000 to $4 000 according to capacity Warranted to dry from 300 to 1 bushels of apples per hour at a small cost for fuel and fruit These machines being so cheap and simple in construction they cannot fail to supersede all other known machines I would also say to the fruit growers that I have invented a Machine (and am now selling) for packing fruit that will cut and spread the fruit on the trays with a very small amount of labor I also have invented a Peach cutter that is on an entirely new principle, cuts as well as hard does its work well with great speed and slices and pits the fruit ready for the dryer in the best possible manner and at a great saving in quantity of fruit

FRUIT DRYER TESTIMONIALS.

EAST PORTLAND Jan 4th 1876

MR W S PLUMMER—Dear Sir As this is a time when all are much interested in Fruit Drying we think that in justice to you and for the information of the public it is but right and proper that we should give all the information in our power Now the first thing I operate your Dryer during this season we feel warranted in saying that for the amount of money invested we still believe as we did from the start that your Dryer is the best Dryer yet introduced into this country The capacity of the Dryer we find to be about 3 (dry) bushels per hour The Dried fruit we claim to be as good as any though perhaps not as much plump as the Alden Fruit and we are satisfied that we can produce Dried fruit at less expense than the Alden The stockholders of our Company manufactured their own Dryer at our meeting Sample Dryer running to insure the capital stock $12 000 (twelve thousand dollars) for the purpose of building one more Dryer to this present one and making other improvements for next season We will further say that we believe that it an improvement inside by the patentee in the Dryer and Fan that there will be an increase of capacity and saving of fuel

H JENSON President
J S NEWITT Secretary and Superintendent

EAST PORTLAND Dec 13 1875

MR PLUMMER Dear Sir I have been watching with the Alden and your Fruit Dryer the past season so as to determine which is the best Machine for drying fruit I visited the Alden Dryer at Oregon City and examined the fruit dried in that Machine and I have also examined several lots dried on your Machine at East Portland and I prefer that in your Dryer as for the best Machine for drying fruit My reasons are the fruit dries from without bursting or cracking, while the fruit dried in the Alden Machine is more or less worthless for market as I state therefore I am to continue your Machine for drying fruit for me or anything else

CITY.

PROFESSIONAL BEAT —The public of Oregon, British Columbia and Washington Territory, are not unacquainted with one D J H Haskell This is the manner in which the S F Chronicle has introduced Dr John H Haskell, who attained considerable notoriety in this city by lecturing before various temperance societies and who has for two years past been engaged in non lecturing, traveling variety show throughout the interior was arrested yesterday on a charge of embezzlement, on complaint of Geo Bauer The latter was engaged as cashier He answered an advertisement calling for a cashier of good address and unimpeachable integrity Bauer presented himself and Haskell asked him if he had any security to offer that he possessed the necessary qualifications for the position Bauer admitted having $600 and consented to place it in the Doctor's hands That was the last of it Haskell greedily pocketed the money and left the young man immediately but never returned the money Following Bauer there will be several dark pools in which the enterprising temperance lecturer will be immersed before long The last is somewhat excited and space admits of but a few names Pat G E de Castro scene shifter $100 Orlando Kieffer stage carpenter $100 G W Moon, stage manager $150 Joseph Stockel cutter out of the dead $152 Joseph Glass cash, painter, $80, Joseph Schierer carpenter and a month's board in some country town, S Casland some minor capacity behind the scenes, $150 and George Stone $300 All of these men answered various advertisements, and were engaged to travel with the "show" through the country towns Most of them received no salary but were forced to put up certain sums as security for their good behavior The venerable swindler Haskell had a varied experience having been a lecturer, physician, lecturer, circus manager and theatrical manager

THE LECTURE Y M C A —The second lecture of the course to be delivered for the benefit of the Y M C A, came off last even at the room, to an appreciative audience The entertainment of the evening commenced with a voluntary on the organ by Mrs Holbrook Gen Howard introduced the speaker Hon Wood, whom after many difficulties he had encountered in crossing the Columbia on the floating ice for the purpose of keeping his appointment is before you The speaker's theme on the subject of "Children," was treated with witty and humorous anecdotes, related in a pleasing manner and flitting language The lecture throughout was listened to with marked attention by the audience, and afforded considerable amusement Mr Bentley sang a sacred song, entitled "The Three Calls," which is certainly a gem in itself, and was rendered with skill and sweetness of voice really charming General Howard, at the conclusion of the song remarked those who were in favor of returning a vote of thanks to Lieut Wood, for his excellent lecture, to manifest the same by rising In response the audience rose en masse The general announced the next lecture will be delivered by Wm Lair Hill, editor of the Oregonian, the subject however he could not give, but would be found advertised in due time The audience was then dismissed

FLORENCE TOWN —A correspondent writing from Clackamas county gives the following description of a nascent city which has recently sprung into existence in that portion of the country "I will tell you where our supplies, and what its name is It lies 10 miles south of Oregon City, and 12 miles east of Canyon and we have christened it Florence We have not incorporated it yet, but think we will as soon as spring opens I will give you some idea of the size of our town It has one store, one store and whisky combined, one blacksmith shop, one one horse hotel and a picture gallery But, alas! the artist has gone He was making himself quite too fresh with the girls and married a lady, and one old man got his back up and vowed to set in operation a small moving wigwam in the region of the artist's scent tank He thought he would hit himself up and find a healthier climate"

CROSS EAST —Mr James Daley who since Mr N Michler was in charge of the Portland lighthouse district has been a resident of this city took his departure on the steamer Ajax yesterday Mr Daley has been Gen Michler's chief clerk and private secretary for nearly 20 years, which fact is highly complimentary to him, and serves to indicate his efficiency, faithfulness and accuracy to all the details of office business, and the degree of appreciation of services rendered and confidence reposed in his integrity, by his employer He goes east for the purpose of rejoining General Michler, who is now in Philadelphia Mr Daley's many friends here will regret his departure, and unite in the earnest wish that prosperity and happiness may attend him

RETURNED FROM POINT ADAMS —Mr Wheeler has just returned from the Lower Columbia, where he has been for some days He went down by order of Col Wilson for the purpose of examining the shore lines at Point Adams and to make soundings, to determine the extents of erosions caused by the late storm at the mouth of the river It is a well known fact that encroachments are made each year on the shore line at that point by the water The work has been going on very gradually for a long time, but material changes are discernable after a heavy storm and Mr Wheeler's object was to ascertain by personal inspection the extent and character of the encroachments He completed the work of examination and surveys before returning

THE DAY MOSS —Sheriff Tozier of Wasco county, who is now stopping at the Occidental hotel, desires us to state that he will remain in the city until this afternoon, in order to enable persons owning property in that county to come forward and pay their taxes All persons knowing themselves to be assessed to Sheriff Tozier, should call and settle, and not stand on the order of their going either Time improved is money gained

THE CHANGE OF THE REMAINS —Messrs A N Gilbert and G B Washburn, students at the Willamette University, arrived in this city yesterday afternoon, having in charge the remains of the late Robert U Byles who died in Salem last Sunday evening of typhoid fever The young men will start this morning for Olympia with the body of their unfortunate companion and school fellow near which resides the relatives of the deceased reside

WAS AGENT ON BUSINESS —Mr Fish the agent at St Joe for the O C & R Co, telegraphs us that the statement made that he was absent at Lafayette to witness a show at the same the warehouse was destroyed by fire last Friday night, is incorrect He states that he left the office at 8225 and went to Lafayette to attend to some business connected with the Co'y We gave Mr Fish the benefit of his info

FINE —In the police court yesterday morning J Lichtenstein, a tailor by avocation was fined on a charge of larceny by bailee From the testimony it appears that a man gave Lichtenstein some clothing to clean, and when the man called for the clothing he had entirely forgotten the circumstance, and refused to be reminded of it He was found guilty and fined $10 and costs

BURNED —Mr Henry Wilmer, while assisting No 3 engine to the fire Monday night was severely injured He slipped and fell and was struck by the wheel of the steamer before he could gain his feet It wheeled passed over an arm breaking it quite severely and also cutting a head in a painful manner He was taken home and at last accounts was doing well

BRIEF NOTES.

Weather still moderating

The Upper Willamette river is reported low and falling rapidly

The ship Gatherer which has been detained so long at Astoria has gone to sea

Nothing has yet been seen of the Pearl of the Ocean overdue here from San Francisco

The steamer Lyra after a long and tedious detention is said for her destination on yesterday

Hot drinks are all the rage—at least that is what a fellow who keeps himself posted, tells us

Fred Nash recently with the Oregon Iron Works has located at Wall Jose, Linn county

During the present weather Fourth street has become the most popular thoroughfare in the city

The steamer Idaho is announced to sail hence for San Francisco Thursday, 27th inst, at 1 o'clock P M

The steamer Gatherer went down the Willamette river Monday evening having in tow a load of freight

The temple of Joss is brilliantly illuminated these nights during the continuance of the Chinese New Year

We call the attention of the Superintendent of Streets to the condition of Columbia street at the intersection of Second

The steamer Emma Hayward reached here last evening in good time She encountered floating ice as far down as Cathlamet

Wednesday evening 19th ult, has been designated by the members of Baker and Carby post as the time for holding one of their social parties

To the weary, at midnight sandwiches are acceptable—to the reporter and editorial corps are always appreciated from the office or any other place

The telegraph informs us that the ice at the Dalles is of sufficient strength and thickness to bear persons who were crossing the Columbia at that point yesterday

The steamer Welcome did not go down the river yesterday morning to Kalama She has been hauled off the line until the river becomes free from floating ice

Boatmen and base ballists are growing uneasy with premonitory symptoms of spring fever but they may yet have a chance to take a brief season of winter rest

An unfortunate creditor who attempted to leave for San Francisco yesterday was marched off the steamer by a constable The fellow was out of luck that's all

It is quite probable that people generally are not much encumbered at present by resolutions As a general thing they do not last so long It is three weeks now since New Year

The ice collector at the Dalles is now busily engaged improving each shining hour and gathering the chilling commodity at the rate of tons per day Photo is about five inches thick

Possibly it would have been policy for people to lay away a stock of ice cream last summer when it was plentiful to eat in winter hours like the thoughtful and disagreeable bee with his honey

The ship carpenter on the Corinthian Castle who had his arm so badly crushed a few days since, is reported to be doing well The surgeons are confident that the limb can be saved without amputation

Asphyxia is what sometimes kills people when they fall from an elevated position and are suddenly stopped before they reach anything to rest upon In other cases of this kind a dislocation of the cerebral vertebrae proves fatal Avoid both if you would happily live

PASSENGERS.

A SWINDLING DODGE.

A resident of this city who has not been in San Francisco since 1860 received yesterday a letter from that city bearing date of the 17th the contents of which are here quoted

SIR Almost eight months ago you left a watch and chain with me to be repaired which have not been called for Incidentally discovered your address and send you notice if the charges, amounting to $2 are not paid by Jan 28 they will be sold Answer by return mail and enclose $2 20 currency and I will forward as you direct Very respectfully I W WOOD 733 Market street

Of course the recipient of the note was greatly astonished to know that he was in San Francisco eight months ago and to the thing looked rather suspicious he consulted an acquaintance about it and it turned out that his friend had received a note couched in similar language, in the same hand writing, but not the same address It was looked upon as a swindle, and in order to guard those similarly favored against being taken in the gentleman turned the letter over to us for publication We are inclined to think the parties written to the gentlemen mentioned are one and the same and the design in effect to obtain a remittance and thus swindle the remitters

PRESIDENT MAKING IN PENNSYLVANIA.

The New York Tribune's regular correspondent at Harrisburg has been prospecting the members of the Pennsylvania legislature for "colors" on the Presidential question, and reports the following, as general results

Thus far the attitude of the Pennsylvania Democrats They are for Hendricks Bayard Thurman Gen Hancock or almost anybody in preference to Tilden but they will give up their preference rather than run a clear hazard of defeat Satisfy them that without New York they have the battle, and that with New York they lose New York, and they are for Tilden What I have said above applies to the general run of Democratic members who have not thought seriously on the question and have not therefore enlisted under the banner of any particular candidate A determined, resolute band has been mapped out by the leaders of the Wallace wing of the party but it has not yet been communicated to the rank and file The plan is to throw the vote of Pennsylvania in the Convention for Gov Hendricks in return for the Western vote for ex Gov Curtin for Vice President It is a shrewd and carefully laid scheme, and is worthy of the anxious consideration of Gov Tilden's friends It is intended shifting the battle ground from New York to Pennsylvania inducing the latter State by the old war governor's popularity risking the loss of the former Indiana and making a push for Ohio and Wisconsin The Tilden State figures out victory by the union of the South the East and the Pacific coast the Hendricks and Curtin ticket arrives at the same results by adding to the vote of the South that of Pennsylvania and Indiana and taking the chances of carrying one or two of the close Western States There is good reason for stating that Senator Wallace is using his great talent for organizing political movements to forward this scheme, and for believing that Gov Curtin had it in view when he surprised his friends by taking the stump for Allen last October

Among the Republicans there begin to be strong preferences shown but no prejudices It is Blaine or Bristow with them A few months ago Mr Blaine was almost without a rival in the affections of Pennsylvania Republicans, but since the secretary of the Treasury has a powerful following gained solely by his vigorous warfare upon the whisky rings A member from Washington county the birth place of the ex Speaker, tells me that three fourths of the Republicans there are now for Bristow I know however that the sentiment is not as one sided throughout the State, and I do not think it probable that the preference of the member leads him to exaggerate the feeling in his section Mr Blaine's hold upon Pennsylvania is too strong to be lost so quickly A sudden wave of popularity may appear to raise a rival higher in public regard but the men who control Republican politics and who will name the delegates to the National Convention continue to be staunch friends of the ex Speaker Let vote of the State will, I am confident be given to him Besides the two strong candidates, I hear some mention of Lieut Gov Hartranft and Gen Grant is a powerful candidate for a third term among the Democrats Any Democrat will demonstrate his nomination to a certainty at Philadelphia If they prefer to bury it all when discussing the Presidential subject they suppose that by doing this time that there is no possibility that his party will take it up again

PLUMMER FRUIT DRYER.

AS A PROOF OF WHAT I HAVE HERETOFORE stated that the people of Oregon I give below a letter from the Plummer Fruit Drying Co of East Portland After the close of business of 1875 fully endorse all I have said concerning them and as a proof to set doubters at rest they say they now propose to put up another Dryer of the same capacity of the one they now have which will be in readiness to receive about five hundred bushels of apples per day Having now located here in Portland for the purpose of supplying the demand for Fruit Dryers in Oregon and Washington Territory, I can supply these dryers at a cost of from $2 000 to $3 000 according to capacity Warranted to dry from 5 to 6 bushels of apples per hour at a small cost for labor and fuel These machines being cheap and simple in construction they cannot fail to supersede all other known machines Upon it's adaptability to the fruit growers that I have invented a Machine to turn out with great rapidity that will cut and spread the fruit on the trays with a very small amount of labor I also have invented a Parer that is an entirely new principle by which any one can do work at the rate of 100 pieces per minute The fruit is left in the best possible manner and can be handled in quantities of fruit

FRUIT DRYER TESTIMONIALS.

EAST PORTLAND Jan 4th 1875

MR W B PLUMMER—Dear Sir As I have become interested in Fruit Drying we think it important for us to understand the information you possess in regard to the Alden Fruit Dryer It is but right and proper that we should give all the information in our power to each other concerning the two Dryers during the season we feel warranted in saying that for the amount of money invested we still believe as well from the start that your Dryer is the best Dryer we have introduced into this country The capacity of the Dryer we decided to take out is 8 (eight) bushels per hour The dried fruit we claim to be as good as any thing perhaps not as much blemished as the Alden Fruit but we are satisfied that we can produce dried fruit at less expense than the Alden The stockholders of our Company manifested their confidence in the Plummer Dryer at our meeting last Saturday by a unanimous vote increasing the capital stock $12 000 (twelve thousand dollars) for the purpose of adding one more Dryer to the present and making other improvements for next season We will further say that we believe that [illegible] an improvement made by the patentee in the Dryer and I am that there will be an increase of capacity and a saving of Fuel

AN UNHEEDED WARNING

The following extraordinary letter signed "Warhawk" is published in the London Times

The subject of the Bremerhaven explosion is of such international interest that you will perhaps allow me to report a few facts respecting this matter which came to my knowledge more than two years since On the 3d or 4th of March 1873, I was first informed that some persons were about to carry out a large fraud by shipping a lot of worthless goods on board some steamer and at the same time introducing into such ship an infernal machine which would cause her total destruction in a short time after sailing—the proceeds to go to the conspirators being the heavy insurance they would recover on the loss of their goods I must frankly admit that my information at first was very vague My informant would not tell me from what port the goods were to be shipped he could only give me the names of certain persons whom he had reason to suspect and inform me that these persons were about to start for certain foreign ports I considered that what was told me was possible, if not probable and that it could do no harm if I sent my information as I received it to the representatives of the various countries which might be affected and as I never sought for the least recompense I thought I was at least rendering a service which should have been courteously received

For some days I was led to believe that the destructive agent would have been the "coal shells" described in the Times, but I afterwards discovered that a machine precisely similar to that said to have been used at Bremerhaven would be adopted, and I reported the matter fully to the Baron de Grancey, the military attache to the French Legation here That gentleman was very much interested with what I told him and was decidedly the most courteous of any I had seen upon the subject I had at that time reason to believe that the goods would be sent by steamers from Bordeaux or Marseilles and that was why the Baron reported the subject to his government, and they very promptly issued the circular warning ship owners and insurance companies throughout France

The Baron de Grancey will I think admit that I never endeavored in any way to make profit out of my communication to him, and I believe that the prompt action which he and the ministers in Paris took in the matter saved the Messageries Maritimes Company from the loss of one or more ships for I was assured that goods were being prepared to be sent by the steamer of that company either from Bordeaux or Marseilles, and I advised their agent in London of the fact The next decided information I received was that goods were to be shipped from Bremen or Hamburg by the steamers of the North German Lloyds under similar conditions and I informed the agents of that company in London and also the first secretary and Charge d'Affaires of the German legation here My interviews with these gentlemen were held in the month of April, 1873. I gave them the names of one and afterward three persons said to be connected with that intended shipment and am confident that if they had given the matter their attention the late disaster at Bremerhaven would have been averted Now, I must remind you that I had not a staff of detectives at my orders neither had I—what would have been more useful—a "secret service fund" at my disposal. I was obliged to make the best of very crude material. No doubt some of it was dross, but in a subject of such grave importance I thought it would do best to accept all and leave it to those most interested to do their respective duty and keep a sharp look out In the letter you inserted in the Times of the 17th of June 1873 signed "Ex Yachtsman," I told you that I had "dared to attack a desperate gang," and that I was sure it would only result in loss and bother, if not actual danger to myself. The action of Thomas proves the nature of the men concerned I will only cite one fact to show the sort of acknowledgment I obtained for my intentions Some of those diplomatic gentlemen I had warned endeavoring to obtain all the credit of the discovery for themselves decided that they would send a detective to watch me This man engaged rooms in the house where I resided and when I was out overhauled all my papers I knew he was coming, I know who sent him But actions of that sort do not answer in England and it was a failure in this case also

I do not desire to obtain glory as a detective I have been engaged by more than one foreign Government as a political agent In that capacity I served the Spanish Government for some months in 1873 against the Carlists in this country and an official letter exists in the Madrid Foreign Office to prove that the Carlist agent Olzabal offered me £2,000 to quit my service, as I had at that time got into my possession all the arms they had been collecting for nearly a year During my service from June, 1873, until April, 1874 the Carlists were never able to ship a single gun or cartridge out of England but ever since the latter date they have sent off cargoes as easily as ordinary merchandise The Spanish Government of that period was perfectly satisfied with my success, but the Carlist war is a source of such profit to many persons in Madrid that it is not thought advisable to act too strangely against the Carlist agents in France and England who are now permitted to do pretty much as they like

To prove beyond a shadow of a doubt that I knew the nature of the machine used by Thomas I may remark that on the 17th of last month I obtained for the secretary of a foreign legation in Paris a model of the machine in question and it was duly delivered to that gentleman on the 18th of November at Paris

A PRACTICAL ARCTIC DISCOVERY

The Arctic regions are being pierced from several quarters and by various nations The latest successful capture in that region will under the command of a Russian navigator named Nordenskjold His idea was to reach the mouth of the Lena and from there proceed to his destination along the coast of Siberia to the Pacific and also navigate some of the rivers in that location Arriving at the Arctic Ocean from one of the ports of Northern Europe, the professor passed between the mouth of the river Lena and the mainland into the Sea of Kara This body of water is found navigable, and proceeding on his voyage he reached the mouth of the Yenesei and thus established a new ocean route between Europe and Siberia This river of which so little has been known of a practical character has its source in Mongolia It thus traverses the whole of Russian Siberia and has a length of more than twenty four hundred miles Its depth of water sufficient to float medium sized vessels for two thousand miles Upon its banks are situated a number of large towns and it is also populated by more than a quarter of a million of people There are also gold washings in this portion of Russia and the river discharges an enormous amount of water By means of the great river system of northern Asia Nordenskjold has made full history to the trade and commerce of the world At the present time that portion of Siberia watered by the Yenesei can only be reached by way of Archangel Journeys from St Petersburg or the neighborhood of the Black Sea and hence its wealth is but little seen in European markets Some gold is sent to the centers of trade but the other products are forced year after year, for want of a ready market When Russia opens up this new water way between Europe and Asia, the people on the banks of the Yenisei and in that region, will have fresh inducements to labor and the yield will be proportionately increased Besides this Russia will have an additional highway over which to transport troops lest need to act upon certain portions of the frontiers of China Protracted marches will no longer be necessary in mid winter and in inclement weather Troops will be transported up the river at the proper season to the head of navigation and then pushed on to their destination with safety and dispatch Thus the new route will be of benefit to Russia both from a civil and military point of view It also has an entrance into the Arctic Circle has thus been crowned with results of an immediate practical character while its advantages in the future cannot be over-estimated If efforts of a like nature in other portions of the Polar Sea produce like heavy headed sheaves the cost of the various expeditions will be amply repaid —Philadelphia Times

European Grain Market.

LONDON Jan 24—The Mark Lane Express' review of the grain markets of the past week says Milder weather gave a more favorable aspect for farmers but the same cause led to a deterioration of samples and prices again suffered although good and dry samples changed little. General averages yielded six pence per quarter. They remain only one penny above last year's prices, while deliveries of English are 56 per cent below those at Paris Inferior wheat is 6d@9s lower Flour has again tallied its price because better rates are obtained for wheat in some of the provincial markets Marseilles is over-stocked In Belgium and Holland the markets are unchanged At Hamburg markets it is still dull Inland navigation being closed by ice and ports are open with difficulty At Dantzic prices are lower in absence of English demand. At St Petersburg quotations are steady In Austria and Hungary business has been on the smallest scale Prices are lower everywhere There are hopes that spring will revive business but unusually heavy foreign stocks deter millers from purchasing and act as a dead weight on trade though we have no doubt they will all be wanted shortly

AN UNHEEDED WARNING

The following extraordinary letter signed "Warhawk" is published in the London Times

The subject of the Bremerhaven explosion is of such international interest that I can well presume to report a few facts respecting this matter which came to my knowledge more than two years since On the 3d or 4th of March, 1873, I was first informed that three persons were about to carry out a large fraud by shipping a lot of worthless goods on board some steamer and at the same time introducing into such ship an infernal machine which would cause the total destruction of the ship at some time after sailing—the perpetrators calculating on the conspirators being the heavy insurance they would receive on the loss of their goods I must frankly admit that my information at first was very vague My informant would not tell me for a what port the goods were to be shipped he could only give me the names of certain persons with whom he had reason to suspect and inform me that these persons were about to start for certain foreign ports I considered the thing was told me was possible, if not probable and that I could do harm if I sent my information as I received it to the representatives of the various countries which might be affected and as I never sought for the least recompense I thought I was at least rendering a service which should have been courteously received

For some days I was led to believe that the destructive agent would have been the "coal shells" described in the Times, but I afterwards discovered that a machine precisely similar to that said to have been used at Bremerhaven would be adopted and I reported the matter fully to the Baron de Grancey the military attache to the French Legation here That gentleman was very much interested with what I told him, and was decidedly the most courteous of any I had seen upon the subject I had at that time reason to believe that the goods would be sent by steamers from Bordeaux or Marseilles and that was why the Baron reported the subject to his government, and they very promptly issued the circular warning ship owners and insurance companies throughout France

The Baron de Grancey will I think admit that I never endeavored in any way to make profit out of my communication to him, and I believe that the prompt action which he and the minister in Paris took in the matter saved the Messageries Maritimes Company from the loss of one or more ships for I was assured that goods were being prepared to be sent by the steamer of that company either from Bordeaux or Marseilles and I advised their agent in London of the fact The next decided information I received was that goods were to be shipped from Bremen or Hamburg by the steamers of the North German Lloyds under similar conditions, and I informed the agents of that company in London, and also the first secretary and Charge d'Affaires of the German legation here My interviews with these gentlemen were held in the month of April 1873. I gave them the names of one and afterward three persons said to be connected with that intended shipment and am confident that if they had given the matter their attention the late disaster at Bremerhaven would have been averted Now I must remind you that I had not a staff of detectives at my orders; neither had I—what would have been more useful—a "secret service fund" at my disposal I was obliged to make the best of very crude material. No doubt some of it was dross but in a subject of such grave importance I thought it would be best to accept all and leave it to those most interested to do their respective duty and keep a sharp look out In the letter you inserted in the Times of the 17th of June 1873 signed "Ex Yachtsman" I told you that I had 'dared to attack a desperate gang," and that I was sure it would only result in loss and bother, if not actual danger to myself. The action of Thomas proves the nature of the men concerned I will only cite one fact to show the sort of acknowledgment I obtained for my intentions Some of those diplomatic gentlemen I had warned endeavoring to obtain all the credit of the discovery for themselves decided that they would send a detective to watch me This man engaged rooms in the house where I resided and when I was not overhauled all my papers I know he was coming, I know who sent him But actions of that sort do not answer in England and it was a failure in this case also

I do not desire to obtain glory as a detective I have been engaged by more than one foreign Government as a political agent In that capacity I served the Spanish Government for some months in 1874 against the Carlists in that country and an official letter exists in the Madrid Foreign Office to prove that the Carlist agent Olazabal offered me £1,000 to quit my service, as I had at that time got into my possession all the arms they had been collecting for nearly a year During my service from June 1873, until April, 1874 the Carlists were never able to ship a single gun or cartridge out of England, but ever since the latter late they have sent off cargoes as easily as ordinary merchandise The Spanish Government of that period was perfectly satisfied with my success but the Carlist war is a source of such profit to many persons in Madrid that it is not thought advisable to act too stringently against the Carlist agents in France and England who are now permitted to do pretty much as they like

To prove beyond a shadow of a doubt that I knew the nature of the machine used by Thomas I may remark that on the 17th of last month I obtained for the secretary of a foreign legation in Paris a model of the machine in question and it was duly delivered to that gentleman on the 18th of November at Paris

The Arctic circle is being pierced from several quarters and by various nations The latest successful venture in that region was under the command of a Russian savant named Nordenskiold His idea was to reach the mouth of rivers and from the ice pass into his vessel and along the coast of Siberia to the East and also navigate some of the rivers in that location Arriving at the Arctic Ocean from one of the ports of Northern Europe the professor passed between the south end of Nova Zembla and the main land into the Sea of Kara This body of water is found navigable and proceeding on his voyage he reached the mouth of the Yenisei and thus established a new ocean route between Europe and Siberia This river of which so little has been known of a practical character has its source in Mongolia It thus traverses the whole Russian Siberia and is a long high river more than twenty four hundred miles long deep and it is said not to float medium sized vessels for two thousand miles Some of its banks are elevated a number of large towns are on the river and quite a commerce is carried on Coal is found in many portions of Siberia and the rivers and streams are numerous and navigative By means of the great river system of northern Asia is equipped and made tributary to the rail and commerce of the world At the present time that portion of Siberia water by the Yenisei can only be reached by a long and dangerous route from the interior being the most remote and its wealth is but little seen in European markets From gold is sent to the centers of trade but the other products are carried year after year for want of a ready market When Russia opens up this new water way between Europe and Asia the people on the banks of the Yenisei and in that region, will have fresh inducements to labor and the yield will be proportionately increased Besides this Russia will have an additional highway over which to transport troops destined to act upon certain portions of the frontiers of China Protracted marches will no longer be necessary in midwinter and in inclement weather Troops will be transported on the river at the proper season to the local navigation and then pushed on to their destination with safety and dispatch First class results will be of benefit to Russia and the commercial and military point of view Let a steamer once enter into the Arctic Circle has thus been crowned with results of an immediate practical character while its advantages in the future cannot be over-estimated If efforts of a like nature in other portions of the Polar Sea produce like heavy hauled shavers the cost of the various expeditions will be amply repaid Philadelphia Times

European Grain Market.

LONDON Jan 24—The Mark Lane Express review of the grain markets of the past week says Milder weather gave a more favorable aspect for farmers but the same cause led to a deterioration of samples and prices again suffered although good and dry samples changed little General averages yielded six pence per quarter They remain only one penny above last year's prices while deliveries of English are 58 per cent below those of Paris Inferior wheat is 6d@8s lower Flour has maintained its price because better rates are obtained for wheat in some of the provincial markets Marseilles is overstocked In Belgium and Holland the markets are unchanged At Hamburg markets it is still dull Inland navigation being closed by ice and ports are open with difficulty At Dantzic prices are low owing to want of English demand At St Petersburg quotations are steady In Austria and Hungary business has been on the smallest scale Prices are lower everywhere There is hope that spring will revive business but in the usually heavy freight stocks deter millers from purchasing and not as a load weight on trade though we have no doubt they will all be wanted shortly
